

The Marquise Paris bags have the French elegance of their creator, Elisabeth BUSSON.

You need a highly educated woman, full of creativity and guts to instigate a breakthrough in this competitive world of luxury leather goods. Before Elisabeth became a creator of these bags, she nurtured her artistic sensitivity in the world of interior decoration from her magnificent boutique in Place de la Madeleine in Paris where she had devoted herself more widely to the writers and artists in that area.

One day Elisabeth decided to design and custom make a unique bag for herself !!

Wanting something completely out of the ordinary, she simply decided to create this bag herself !!

Everywhere she went she was congratulated and eagerly questioned as to where she had bought her bag, only for them to find out that the bag was designed and made by Elisabeth herself and therefore a completely unique piece. Elisabeth Busson gave into the demands and ended up by selling this first bag and then made five others which also sold instantly, so the brand was born.

According to Elisabeth the key factor to success was the question she asked herself

"Why are luxury brands so conventional?"

And from this simple question, she created the exclusive brand Marquise Paris. A dynamic universe was founded on revamping the traditional codes with unique creative designs and range of fashion and disruptive colours.

Just as an 'object d'art' each bag has it's own story, each model gives to it's owner a unique personality and a distinctive character.

Elisabeth Busson, with a little wink to the practical also thought to integrate a little light into each of her bags!

Finally, each Marquise Paris bag is wrapped in fabric and fastened with a pretty ribbon – an extra little pleasure!
